NeuStar Names Marc Abshire Director of Global Media Relations

STERLING, Va., May 30, 2006 – NeuStar Inc. (NYSE:NSR) has named Marc Abshire Director of Global Media Relations. In this role, Abshire will be responsible for maintaining and enhancing NeuStar's image, visibility, and reputation among international, national, and trade media. He will be charged with the development and implementation of broad-based media strategies for the company and its executives, and oversee its news bureau. Abshire will report to Elizabeth Penniman, NeuStar's Senior Director of Corporate Communications, and will split his time between the company's offices in Washington, D.C. and its corporate headquarters in Sterling, Virginia.

"Marc brings considerable experience and a broad combination of communications and leadership skills to this position," said Jeff Ganek, Chairman and CEO of NeuStar. "He will play an important role in helping us achieve our goals as we continue to grow our suite of services domestically and in key global markets. We are very pleased to have Marc on the team."

NeuStar's business was founded in 1996 to provide essential services that tens of thousands of competing networks, technologies, and communications service providers continue to trust, require, and rely upon to deliver voice, video, and content every day, around the world.

Prior to this assignment, Abshire was Director of Eastern Region Communications for Northrop Grumman's Electronic Systems sector. Before joining Northrop Grumman, Abshire was a career Air Force officer, where he served in a variety of leadership positions, including Chief of the NATO AIRSOUTH Commander's staff group in Naples, Italy, Operations Officer of the Western Test Range on the central coast of California, and as the Speechwriter to the Secretary of the Air Force.

Abshire earned a Bachelor of Science degree from the U.S. Air Force Academy and a Master of Arts degree in English from the University of Colorado–Boulder.
