NeuStar Jumps Onto Forbes Magazine's "25 Fastest Growing Tech Companies" List

STERLING, Va., FEBRUARY 17, 2009 – NeuStar, Inc. (NYSE: NSR) today announced that it has been named to Forbes Magazine's "25 Fastest Growing Tech Companies" list for 2009. The magazine ranked NeuStar #17 in its issue dated Monday, February 16.

"This is a special honor for NeuStar's world-class employee base," said Jeff Ganek, chairman and CEO of NeuStar. "The communications industry is changing rapidly – and it is NeuStar's aim to not only enable that change, but to be at the very forefront of it. NeuStar enters 2009 as a global managed services business that is positioned for sustained success as the trusted provider of interoperability services for tomorrow's complex, worldwide IP networks."

"Looking ahead, we expect to be as essential to the continued evolution of global IP networks as we are to North American voice networks and Internet infrastructure today," Ganek added.

Selection criteria for the list include a minimum of $25 million in sales over the previous 12 months, a minimum of 10 percent annualized sales gains over the previous five fiscal years, and profitability over the previous 12 months. In addition, Forbes requires a Thomson IBES long-term consensus profit forecast of at least 10% annualized.
